

10 Mommy Must-Haves

1. A full night's sleep - as in wake up on my own, without an alarm clock, kids, or demands to sound my good morning. I could wake as I wish and leisurely work my way out of bed.
2. A mute button - for the whining, complaining, and screaming.
3. Endless patience - enough said.
4. Worry eraser - mental eraser that keeps things in perspective and stops those "what ifs?"
5. Cloning power - to get more done, to not miss anything (good or bad) that my kids do, to not have to choose between which kid event I make and which one I miss, etc.
6. Self-cleaning house - like an oven, turn it on, leave the house, come home and put it back to work.
7. Toned abs - you know, without doing 100 sit ups per day or skipping out on ice cream.
8. Magic hair - so you can roll out of bed, and still look good!
9. Wash, dry, fold/hang up, put away machine - seriously, how has this not been invented yet?
10. Calorie sucker - it pulls the calories from your favorite foods but keeps the flavor.
