Ethics

What would you do if a friend asks you to like or share something you disagree with online?

Ethics

What would you do if a friend shared a secret with you, but you realized that telling an adult might be the only way to keep them safe from harm?

Ethics

If your best friend made a joke that was hurtful to someone else, would you call him out or let it slide?

Ethics

What would you do if you found out a friend was using AI or cheating another way to do schoolwork?

Ethics

If you saw someone at school getting bullied, but speaking up might make you a target too, how would you handle it?

Can you think of ways to help without putting yourself in danger?

Have you ever seen someone step in?

Ethics

Would you say anything if you knew a teacher graded your work incorrectly and gave you a higher grade than you deserved? Why or why not?

How do you think your teacher would react if you were honest?

What would be the long-term effects of staying silent?

Ethics

If a friend lied to her parents and asked you to cover for her, would you?

What if the lie was about something small?

What if it was about something big, like sneaking out?

Ethics

A friend shows you a private photo or video of someone else that was shared without consent.

Would you look at it or tell your friend not to share it and respect the other person's privacy?

Ethics

You see a pair of AirPods Pros on the ground at school. No one is around. What do you do?

What if you really needed a new pair?

Would that change your decision?

Ethics

A friend posts something embarrassing about someone else. Would you ask her to take it down?

What if she refuses?

How do you think the person in the post would feel?

Ethics

A friend starts copying your answers on a test.

Do you stop her, tell the teacher, or ignore it?

Ethics

If you saw someone stealing from a store and knew telling an adult might get that person in trouble, would you say something?

Ethics

Your group of friends is leaving someone out on purpose. Would you speak up, go along with it, or try to include the person?

Have you ever been left out?
How did it feel?

What could you do to make someone feel included?

Ethics

Your friend makes an assumption about someone based on their culture or background that you know isn't accurate. How would you respond?

Have you ever experienced a stereotype?

How do you think assumptions like this affect people?

Ethics

You accidentally overhear two people talking badly about your friend.

Do you tell your friend or keep it to yourself?

Ethics

What would you say or do if you were part of a group project but received most of the praise when others did more work?
